DAILY STATEMENT

COTTON MARKETS

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK Nov. 7.—An easier tenlency developed in the cotton market oday. The recent sensational advance of about 25g cents per pound seemed to mve left futures in a weaker technical position and there was a disposition to take profits on long contracts or to self for a reaction. The opening was teady at an advance of 4 to 27 points, but prices soon eased off with Lecember declining from 30.0c to 29.7cc and Jabuary from 29.4cc to 28.8cc before the end of the first hour, or about 10 to 55 points net lower. It was reported that a prominent Southern authority
estimated the crop at 11.580,000 bales,
excluding linters, but the figures falled
to create any from sentiment and the reaction was attributed chiefly to realising or an expectation of increased spot offerings on any further advance.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 7.—No de-ided trend was shown by cotton in the arry trading today. On the first call scices were 9 to 20 points up, but a uick drop followed, which carried the citive months 25 to 30 points under resterday's close. Support was met and by the end of the first half hour of trading prices were 20 to 29 points those yesterday's finals.

FROM WALL STREET

Improving Signs of Early Peace Have Effect on Steady Opening.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Further signs of early peace were the chief influence at the strong opening of today's stock market. The buying was again very general, but rails of the investment class were most in favor at average gains of a point. Oils, motors, coppers and some of the peace industrials rose one to almost three points. Marine preferred was the only important stock to register an initial loss.

GRAIN MARKETS

Profit Taking in Corn Causes Moderate Reaction—Oats Share Decline.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Reactions took place in the corn market today from yesterday's wild advance. Efforts to realize profits explained much of the selling. Opening prices, which ranged from '\(\frac{1}{2}\) to 3\(\frac{1}{2}\) olwer, with December $1.20\(\frac{1}{2}\) to $1.21, and Japuary, $1.21 to $1.21\(\frac{1}{2}\), were followed by additional decilines.

Clines.
Outs sagged with corn. After opening unchanged to ½c lower; with December 70½c to 70½c the market underwent a moderate further setback.
